Brian Bridges, Ph.D. (Wales), is an Adjunct Professor at the Department of Political Science, Lingnan University, Hong Kong. Professor Brian Bridges was the founding Head of the Department of Political Science at Lingnan University, and taught international politics at Lingnan. He was also the Associate Director/Director of the Centre for Asian Pacific Studies. Professor Bridges specialises in the political economy of Northeast Asia. His current research agenda includes the sport-politics nexus and he is the author of the book The two Koreas and the politics of global sport (Brill, 2012).<Email: bbridges@ln.edu.hk>

Che-po Chan 陈哲博, Ph.D. (UC Santa Barbara), is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Political Science, Lingnan University, Hong Kong. He has published on issues of Chinese youth politics, the state-society relationship in China, Chinese central and local administrative reforms, the Chinese People’s Liberation Army soldiers, Chinese nationalism, Taiwan-Japan relationship, Hong Kong voting behaviours, and the Hong Kong church-state relationship. Among other journals, he has published in the Asian Perspective, Asian Profile, China Information, China Report, International Review of Administrative Sciences, Journal for the Scientific Study of Religion, Journal of Contemporary China and Pacific Affairs.<Email: chancp@ln.edu.hk>
King Fai Chan 陈景辉 is a renowned columnist and social activist. He became active after the 2003 July 1st Grand March, and had also tried to run for district council election in the autumn of 2003. He continued to be active during the 2006-07 Anti-Star Ferry Demolition (反拆遷天星皇后碼頭) and became one the 3 main leaders who led the grand Anti-High Speed Rail Campaign culminating in the 10000-people demonstration outside Legislative Council in early 2010. &lt;Email: 413 cseec@gmail.com&gt;

Sze Chi Chan 陈士齐, Ph.D. (KCL), is a Senior Lecturer at the Department of Religion and Philosophy, Hong Kong Baptist University, since his return from Britain in 1992. He holds a Ph.D. from King’s College London, University of London. Author of Trains of thought (co-authored) and various social and current affairs articles and theological critique articles, Dr Chan helped found the League of Social Democrats (社会民主連線) in 2006, leading the party to formulate its overall party policy document in 2007, finalising the draft of Wong Yuk-man 黄毓民’s book of his first year in the Legislative Council office, 《毓民議壇搞事錄》(Anthology of Yuk Man’s agitation). Dr Chan also singly drafted the whole policy document of the Five District de facto Referendum proposal, which finally became the main body of 《社會民主連線 五區總辭 全民公決 2012 年雙普選 政治說帖》(The League of Social Democrats ‘5 District Resignation, De facto Referendum’ political proposal address to the people) in 2009. He withdrew from the party soon after this drafting, and remains as free political activist as well as renowned political commentator. &lt;Email: scchan@hkbu.edu.hk, chrchan2@gmail.com&gt;

Arif Dirlik, Ph.D. (Rochester), lives in Eugene, Oregon, in semi-retirement. He was formerly Knight Professor of Social Science and Professor of History and Cultural Anthropology at the University of Oregon and Professor of History and Cultural Anthropology at Duke University. He was also formerly a Distinguished Visiting Fellow at the Peter Wall Institute for Advanced Studies, University of British Columbia, has held honorary appointments at China Center for Comparative Politics and Economics, Central Compilation and Translation Bureau, Beijing, the Center for the Study of Marxist Social Theory, Nanjing University, Northwest Nationalities University, Lanzhou, PRC, and has taught at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. Arif Dirlik is one of the most important critics writing at the nexus of globalization, postcolonial theory, historiography, Asia-Pacific Studies, and capital critique. He has published over fifteen books and numerous articles. His 1997 book The postcolonial aura: Third World criticism in the age of global capitalism (Westview) is a trenchant analysis and critique of postcolonial theory, and an assessment of its adequacy to the contemporary situation. After the revolution: Waking to global capitalism (Wesleyan, 1994) poses a similar set of challenges to Marxist theory, calling for a new set of oppositional practices and modes of critique that respond to the situation of a newly hegemonic global capitalism and the demise of the socialist states. Dirlik’s other books include Places and politics in the age of global capital (ed. with Roxann Prazniak, Rowman and Littlefield, 2001), Postmodernity’s histories: The past as legacy and project (Rowman and Littlefield, 2000), What is in a rim? Critical perspectives on the Pacific region idea (Westview, 1993), and Anarchism in the Chinese Revolution (University of California, 1991). His works have been translated into Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Turkish, Bulgarian, French, German, Portuguese, and Spanish. In Fall 2010, Dirlik served as the first Liang Qichao Memorial Distinguished Visiting Professor at Tsinghua University, Beijing. In Fall 2011, he held the Rajni Kothari Chair in Democracy at the Centre for the Study of Developing Societies in Delhi, India. Dirlik serves on the editorial boards of over ten periodicals in Chinese, Asian and cultural studies, and is the editor of two book series, “Studies in global modernity”, with the State University of New York Press, and “Asian modernities” with the Chinese University of Hong Kong Press. His various recent book-length publications include Selected works of Arif Dirlik (2010, in Turkish), Snapshots of intellectual life in contemporary China (2008, special issue of boundary 2), Pedagogies of the global (2007), Global modernity: Modernity in the age of global capitalism, and two edited volumes, The formation and indigenization of the disciplines in China: Sociology and anthropology and The end of the peasant? Global capitalism and the future of agrarian society. His other publications in English include Revolution and history: Origins of Marxist historiography in China, 1991-1937, Origins of Chinese Communism; Marxism in the Chinese Revolution, Schools into fields and factories: Anarchists, the Guomindang and the Labor University in Shanghai, 1927-1932, and recently, Culture and history in postrevolutionary China: The perspective of global modernity. Dirlik was born in Mersin, Turkey, in 1940. He has a B.S. in Electrical Engineering from Robert College (now Bosphorus University) in Istanbul and a Ph.D. in History from the University of Rochester, Rochester, NY. <Email: dirlikster@gmail.com>
