Lucy Anning is a distinguished industrial economist, SMEs development strategist, and researcher whose multifaceted expertise shapes China-Africa relations. With two years of service under Ghana's Ministry of Finance, she now serves at the School of Foreign Studies and Trade, Hubei University of Automotive Technology (HUAT) in China, and as Chief Economist for the Pan African Chamber of Commerce in South Africa, representing the chamber at the AfCFTA Secretariat in Ghana. Recently appointed Southern Africa Coordinator for OSAESSDA, her roles emphasize economic, social, and cultural synergies across the continent. As the current Director of DevAfrica Institute, she bridges academic and practical domains, furthering her research with the University of Electronic Science and Technology of China. Dr. Anning, an award-winning leader in Research and Development in Africa, holds advanced degrees in industrial economics, quantitative economics, and economics with mathematics. Her dedication to fostering academic and diplomatic exchanges underscores her pivotal role in advancing China-Africa collaboration. Email: <lucyanning@yahoo.com>.

Dang Minh Duc, Ph.D. is an associate professor and senior researcher at the Institute of European and Americas Studies, Vietnam Academy of Social Sciences. His research focuses on European and American studies, with particular attention to international relations and regional political economy. He is actively engaged in academic research and policy-oriented studies at the national level in Vietnam. Email: <minhduc_ies@yahoo.com> | ORCID: <<https://orcid.org/0000-0002-7441-202X>>.

Amna Khalid is a Ph.D. candidate in International Relations at the Universiti Utara Malaysia. Specialising in major power competition and middle power agency in the global order, her research lies at the intersection of geopolitics, foreign policy analysis, and security and strategy. Email: <amnakhaid2578@gmail.com> | ORCID: <0009-0008-3673-0140>.

HongYing Li is a Ph.D. candidate in the Institute of China Studies, University of Malaya. Her research focuses on Chinese subnational diplomacy—specifically the role of border and inland provinces in China's foreign relations. Email: <daisylhy2017@hotmail.com>.

Bakri Mat, Ph.D. is an Associate Professor in the Department of International Affairs, School of International Studies, Universiti Utara Malaysia and a Senior Research Fellow at the Asian Institute of International Affairs and Diplomacy. His scholarly expertise centres on international relations and strategic studies, with particular emphasis on non-traditional security challenges (including food security, migration, terrorism, and cybersecurity), national security, and ASEAN regional dynamics. He is actively engaged in academic, policy, and media discourse, contributing informed analysis that bridges theoretical scholarship with practical policy relevance in both national and international levels. Email: <bakri@uum.edu.my> | ORCID: <0000-0003-4620-3877>.

Nguyen Bich Thuan, Ph.D. is the Deputy Director of the Institute of International Finance Education, Academy of Finance, Vietnam. Her academic and professional work centers on international finance, financial education, and institutional capacity building. She has contributed to both research and administrative leadership in higher education and financial studies. Email: <n.b.thuan@iife.edu.vn> | ORCID: <0009-0005-6337-9817>.

Jiandong Shi, Ph.D. is a researcher at the Centre for International Economy, Mathias Corvinus Collegium. His main research interests include international trade and trade policy, with a particular focus on China–US trade and China–EU trade. He also conducts research on the macroeconomics of China, Japan, and South Korea. Email: <shijiandonge37upb@gmail.com>.

Vu Thanh Ha is a researcher at the Institute of European and Americas Studies, Vietnam Academy of Social Sciences (VASS).
